MODERN DRIFT

Brintons | SELF EXPRESSION

"Found object art is a testament to the beauty of transformation and the magic of reinvention. In the hands of the artist, seemingly forgotten relics find a new lease on life, unveiling hidden narratives and offering fresh perspectives on the past.

My process begins with a keen eye and a curiosity. I like to explore in the Mojave Desert, flea markets, and old ghost towns unearthing objects that have been overlooked, discarded, or outgrown. Each of these objects, though separated from their original purpose, carries the echoes of history and memory.

In essence, found object art is an artistic expression that reminds us of the profound artistry hidden within the mundane. It celebrates the power of transformation, the resonance of history, and the endless possibilities of creative reinterpretation."
