Brintons

In November of 2019, we (naïve to the following year's insanity) traveled to New Mexico for our annual Brintons Design Conference. After spending the weekend diving head first into the local art + maker scene, brushing up on the latest carpet design practices, reconnecting with our carpet loving colleagues and celebrating all things Brintons, we begin the journey to our next design collection.

Following the path carved by our Self-Expression Project, we look to open the horizons of creation just a bit more with our second chapter - Santa Fe.

Inspired by community, collaboration and the magic of The City Different, our designers created the second volume of our self-expression project. With this new collection we dive into what it is that inspires us instead of just how we respond.

*Santa Fe begs the question,
...what inspires you?*
